Good day

I please want to ask your advice regarding the comments received from DEADP: Waste Management and DEADP: Pollutions & Chemicals Management pertaining specifically to the proposed disposal of the existing sludge & the disposal of grit and screening. Please refer to the comments from the Departments attached.

I now understand that the grit & screening material is considered hazardous and that if this is to be buried on site the applicant will have to obtain a waste license. Would it then be acceptable to rather establish a storage area for the collection of grit & screenings to be disposed of at a suitable site once a suitable amount was collected? For this, a waste license would not have to be obtained?

In terms of the existing sludge on site, I understand that because this sludge was not tested, it is considered hazardous waste. Would it be acceptable then to rather establish drying beds for the drying of sludge to be disposed of at a suitable landfill or in another manner? Would the sludge have to be tested regardless to be able to determine method of disposal?

Would the Department be able to recommend a lab or testing facility that would be able to conduct the testing of existing sludge?

I look forward to your valued response.

Kind regards
Inge
